

The ARRL Proposal will insure the growth and future of the amateur radio community. Failure to re-classify will cause the number of future operators to dwindle. The morse issue, though very passionate has nothing to do with the correct operation of a station. It should be left to the operator to decide if they choose to utalize that mode of communication.